

Beyond Fronteras

Treasuring an Arizona Border Community's Past and Future

My neighborhood the smell of the

IHOP hamburgers

It is the trailers and forklifts sound

Nogales is a train diving a complete city

Love is the sound of my little nephew playing outside

Love is my sister doing dinner for all the family

Love is my grandfather coming from Sinaloa just to see us

Nogales is the recinto fiscal full of cars on Thursday racing

Where little kids take the bus alone to go to school

Fear is how it changes

Hope it always stays like it is now, beautiful
